

9 year log price trends

Export Log prices surge again. Japanese log demand is especially strong with China and Domestic prices following the upward trend. As you can see, prices can be very volatile with peaks lasting just a month or two.

With the strengthening of the US housing market, domestic demand may keep prices up longer into the spring and summer. Alder prices are moving slowly upward with domestic demand increasing. Cedar prices are generally stable. Pulp prices have not moved at all.

Seedlings are in short supply so call as soon as you think you may need some.
